

DEEP INTEREST IN FOREST WORK

North Carolina's Geological Survey and Board of Education Giving the Subject Attention.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2.—North Carolina is another State which is showing an increased interest in practical forestry. Between 1892 and 1907 the North Carolina Geological Survey investigated the forest resources of the State. The widespread popular interest in forestry, and the fact that the State Board of Education owns 750,000 acres of wild swamp land, has shown the need for further work in forestry in the State.

The North Carolina Geological Survey and the Board of Education are co-operating in an investigation of the swamp lands, and at the same time will carry on educational work showing the need of forest management with the object of securing the adoption by the State of a permanent forest policy in managing the public lands, and in giving assistance to private forest owners. The work will be in charge of W. W. Ashe, who is at present in the office of the United States Forest Service, and will be conducted under the direction of the State geologist.

The lards of the Board of Education present two problems: First, to determine the portion which is suitable for agriculture and eliminate the forest; second, to devise means for replanting the open lands, which are of large extent. In addition to the public lands, the private forests are so extensive as to rank among the State's most important natural resources, a large part of them being on mountain lands suited only for forests, and protecting them from fire.

The forest interests of North Carolina rank third among its industries. The necessity for perpetuating the lumber and furniture manufacturing business of the State, and the relation of the mountain forests and the denuded lands of the Piedmont plateau to the water power and cotton manufacturing interests, will make the adoption of a permanent forest policy by North Carolina a very important step in its commercial history.

TO PRESENT HONOR CROSSES

Special Interest to Attend to the Exercises

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] APPOMATTOX, VA., May 2.—The Appomattox veterans will be presenting honor crosses to the 2nd of May. Old Dominion Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, of Lynchburg, have taken the matter in hand. Two weeks ago Mrs. Christian, of Lynchburg, came to this place and made arrangements for the distribution of the crosses. All requested all veterans who wanted them to send in their application. It is said that over 100 applications have been received. The Appomattox Camp, No. 41, United Confederate Veterans, in the county papers issued a call for a meeting of the veterans on May 4th to make arrangements for the presentation of the crosses and visitors on May 4th. This will mean a meeting of the veterans and like the day of the unveiling of the monument—speeches, a big dinner and a general good time. The veterans have waited a long time to get the crosses, and now they are going to get them in a big way. A big time is anticipated on May 23d in Appomattox.

PE-RU-NA AS A TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

Mrs. Paul Casavant Writes From 210 Monroe Street, Topeka, Kansas, Concerning Peruna. Read Her Letter Below:

MRS. PAUL CASAVANT.

Mrs. Paul Casavant, 210 Monroe Street, Topeka, Kan., writes: "I have found Peruna very effective in restoring my health and strength after I had been worn out and rundown for a long time. "I began to use it about six months ago, when I was unable to leave my bed. "My nervous system was shattered, and I was daily losing flesh and strength. "This condition was completely altered after a few bottles of Peruna had been used, and I kept on using it until I was finally restored to perfect health and had gained about fifteen pounds. "I feel so grateful for what your medicine has done for me that I am pleased to give it my hearty endorsement, and shall always be glad to speak a good word for it."

Tones Up the System.

Mrs. William McRoberts, Waverly, Minn., writes:

"I am perfectly well of the catarrh. I took Peruna and Manalin. I recommend your medicine to every one and cannot praise it enough. It is a fine medicine to take any season of the year. Taken in the spring it tones up the system and acts as a gentle stimulant."

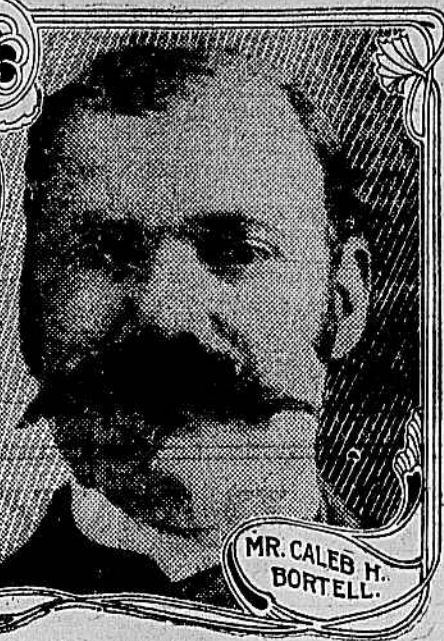

A Good Tonic.

Mr. Joe Leonard, Flat 3, 233 Allen St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

"I have good reason to endorse Peruna, as I have found it a good tonic, stimulating the system and sustaining it under great pressure, imparting unusual endurance and enabling me to work much longer and harder than the system could possibly do were it not for the great powers with which it endowed me. It gives one nerves of iron."

In Spring and Early Summer a Tonic is Needed.

The source of good blood is fresh air and well-digested food. If anything interferes with digestion the blood becomes impure. A catarrhal condition of the stomach prevents perfect digestion. Such a condition allows the food to ferment and decompose in various ways, instead of digesting. The blood is thus contaminated with various materials that do not belong in the blood. This gives rise to spring fever, eruptions on the skin, general lassitude and constipation. Peruna corrects all these difficulties by striking at the source of them. By eradicating the catarrhal condition of the stomach Peruna at once restores digestion, the blood is thereby purified, and the whole machinery of the body is put in working order. Peruna has probably made a more remarkable record in cases of catarrh of the stomach than any other medicine. These cases are very frequent, and we have a host of testimonials in which Peruna has received lavish praise for prompt and permanent relief in cases of catarrh of the stomach.

MR. CALEB H. BORTELL.

Mr. Caleb H. Bortell, Police Officer, 212 North Poca Street, Baltimore, Md., writes:

"For several years I was troubled with catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. Many times I would vomit before and after eating. "I took seven bottles of your Peruna, and I am glad to say that it has cured me. "I feel more like living and working, and am not bothered at all with my old troubles. "I take great pleasure in recommending Peruna to all sufferers with catarrh, and I thank you for what you have done for me, for none but those who have suffered as I have can appreciate a great cure as I have found Peruna to be."

Splendid for La Grippe.

Mr. Frank H. Fielder, 213 Pleasant Ave., Montgomery, Ala., formerly principal of Haynesville High School, writes:

"I can truthfully say that Peruna is a splendid remedy for la grippe, and a good tonic for building up the system."

Pain in Chest.

Mrs. A. W. Gustin, 5209 Lake Ave., St. Joseph, Mo., writes: "When I began taking Peruna I had quite a severe pain and ache in the left of my chest. "I suffered a great deal with it. "I wrote to Dr. Hartman and asked him what I should do. He advised my taking Peruna, which I did. I took three bottles, and I can say I am cured. "Thanks for kind advice and Peruna."

Mr. William Hoge, President Commercial Travelers' Association, 230 Broadway, New York, N. Y., writes: "I endorse Peruna as the most effective remedy for catarrh I have been able to find in my travels in this country or Europe. I can truly say that I have spent thousands of dollars in this country alone trying to find a cure, and it was not until I was induced to give Peruna a trial that I obtained anything like permanent relief. As a tonic it is simply great. It ought to be in the grip of every commercial traveler. It cured my wife as well as myself. We have not had the slightest symptom of catarrh for a long time."

In a later letter Mr. Hoge says: "I have used Peruna for many years, never without a bottle in my grip. I am the youngest feeling and youngest looking man of my age in New York, which I think is entirely due to Peruna."

Hay Fever and Catarrh.

Miss Mayme E. Smith, 44 East Mount Street, Columbus, O., writes:

"I have used Peruna for catarrh and hay fever. The results being remarkable, I can highly recommend it to all who are suffering with the above diseases. I am happy to be able to say it has helped me wonderfully."

Eyes Red and Watery.

Mr. William S. Hearn, 1063 Segal St., Camden, N. J., writes:

"For about two years I was troubled with my eyes being red and watery, and I can highly recommend it to all who are suffering with the above diseases. I am happy to be able to say it has helped me wonderfully."

Mrs. Emily Kellogg, 5640 S. Lawrence St., South Tacoma, Wash., Gives Her Experience With Peruna. Read Her Letter Below:

MRS. EMILY KELLOGG.

Mrs. Emily Kellogg, 5640 S. Lawrence St., S. Tacoma, Wash., member of Ladies of the Maccabees, writes: "Three months ago I had an attack of biliousness which threatened to undermine my health and strength. "Luckily for me, I tried Peruna at the suggestion of my friends before it was too late. "I found in a few days' time that I did not have the usual sick headache, neither did food nauseate me any longer. "In two weeks' time Peruna had completely rid my system of the poison and bile, and I was in a much better condition. My skin assumed its normal color. I had a splendid appetite, and I was in every way improved in health. "I used Peruna for a month longer, and it wrought a wondrous change in my entire system."

tery, and my general health was very poor.

"Finally a friend advised me to try Peruna. I had tried almost everything else, so I purchased a bottle of Peruna and commenced to take it at once, and before I had finished the first bottle I found I was improving.

"I wrote you for special advice concerning my eyes, which I received. I continued to take the Peruna until I had used six bottles.

"Now my eyes are absolutely well, and I feel like a new man in every way."

"I honestly advise any one similarly afflicted to try Peruna."

Peruna Tablets.

Some people prefer to take tablets rather than to take medicine in a fluid form. Such people can obtain Peruna tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Peruna. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peruna.

REFUSED $50,000 A YEAR

Senator Morgan, of Alabama, Declined This Enormous Retainer From Collis P. Huntington to Look After His Railroad Interests.

[Times-Dispatch Bureau, Munsey Building, Washington, D. C., May 2.] It is a fact not generally known that the late Senator John T. Morgan, of Alabama, refused a salary of $50,000 a year to become counsel for Collis P. Huntington's railroads, or, if known, forgotten. The fact was alluded to by two of those friends of Senator Morgan in developing, culled upon his character and public services in the House of Representatives last Saturday. The incident of the offer is interesting as developing Senator Morgan's views on the question of whether a Senator of the United States should accept a retainer fee from a great corporation. That Senator Morgan should have regarded Mr. Huntington's offer as an insult did not surprise those who knew the great Alabamian. Representative Craig, of Alabama, in his address alluded to the incident thus: "His services in the Senate were a constant source of pride to his constituents, and the impress which he has left upon American legislation is lasting in character and marked by the profound wisdom and foresightedness of the man. His great ability as a lawyer stood him in good stead in the Senate, and his merciless cross examination of certain railroad magnates during the investigation of the refunding grants of the Pacific railroads, soon after his advent into the Senate, placed him among the best lawyers in that body. An incident is told in connection with that investigation which indicates most strongly his high character. Not long after the investigation had closed, the particular railroad magnate who had received the most thorough drubbing at the hands of Senator Morgan called at the Senator's house. "He was most cordially received, as were all visitors to that most hospitable home. During his call the railroad man referred to the impression that had been made upon him of the great legal abilities of the Senator, and told him that he had called to engage his services as counsel for his road, saying that they wanted him, and that he might himself fix his salary, no matter if it went as high as $50,000 a year. The reply of Senator Morgan was that so long as he served his country in the Senate he would serve no corporations; that he had severed his connections with the railroads for which he was counsel at the time of his election, and that he would consider it a favor if the railroad magnate would leave his house. He often said that this offer was the greatest insult ever offered to him during his whole service in the Senate.

"It is a mistake sometimes made in estimating this great man to call him a dreamer and visionary," said Representative Taylor, of Alabama, in his tribute to Senator Morgan. "I shall take time to cite a single instance which ought to convince the most skeptical how untenable the charge is. He made up his mind to investigate and master the intricate railroad transactions of the transcontinental railroad transactions, especially those of the Central and Union Pacific Companies. In this great battle of brains he had to cross swords with the colossus of railroads, Mr. Collis P. Huntington, a man of towering intellect and tremendous influence and power. It was a battle of giants. When those two men met each other each knew it was a battle to the death. The object in hand was to settle the debt which these railroad corporations owed to the United States. Those were other days than ours, days when the railroad magnate was a king, with all the power and influence of a king. "A proposition had been made, and was accepted, on the basis of $13,000,000. Senator Morgan declared this was so insistent in his demand for an investigation by the Senate that such an investigation was held. The final outcome was a payment by the railroads of $65,000,000, a net gain to the government of $52,000,000 in one great settlement—a fairly good, round and substantial sum to be credited to a dreamer and a visionary. He was thirty years in the United States Senate. In that time, by this one transaction, there was saved to the government the splendid sum of $1,700,000 and over for every year of his long service.

"It is known that Mr. Huntington offered this stainless man a salary of $50,000 a year as attorney for his railroads, and he refused it. His friends, his people and his State are proud of the fact."

It was hardly contended by anybody that had Senator Morgan held the reins of the government, that Huntington would have been able to have made a fight just as uncompromising in the interests of the government.

GLEANN AT CHATHAM.

Mr. Terry and Miss Shields Married—Examination of Teachers in Progress.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHATHAM, VA., May 2.—Blanche Shields and Mr. George H. Terry were married at Spring Garden on Wednesday, Rev. V. R. Gaston, of the Presbyterian Church of this place, officiating. The merchants here will close their places of business during the summer at 1 P. M. in order to have their clerks a short while for recreation. This hour of closing will continue until about September.

Examination of teachers for public schools was begun in the Chatham High School building Thursday with a goodly number of ladies and gentlemen from nearly every section of the county. The examinations of colored teachers is being held in the colored school building near the town.

Grand Royal Arch Masons of Virginia visited the local chapter Friday night. The chapter is growing rapidly, and is now in a most flourishing condition.

Peyton Byron, of Cascade, died at his home here that place on Saturday last of apoplexy. He was at work on his farm when taken, and died shortly after reaching his dwelling, and before medical aid could be summoned. He leaves a wife and two little boys.

The fruit crop is much better than was anticipated two weeks ago, and prospects for a good crop good. Gardens are fairly well advanced, and in some sections farmers report plants large enough to transplant.

NEWS OF KING GEORGE.

Rev. Mr. Gayle Holds Quarterly Conference.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] KING GEORGE, VA., May 2.—Rev. R. F. Gayle, presiding elder, held his second quarterly conference on King George circuit on Tuesday. The reports were good and the pastor's salary up to the advance of this season. E. B. Doherty, acting trustee of Fletcher's Chapel to fill the vacancy caused by the death of G. W. Orledge, Rev. R. C. Doherty, in charge, was granted permission to hold regular monthly services at Colonial Beach, where there is a union church, but no Methodist population, and the outlook is promising.

Miss Virginia Taylor expects to enter Dr. McGuire's hospital at Winchester next month to take a course of training as nurse. Miss Marie Doherty is visiting relatives in Washington and Baltimore.

Mr. J. Robert Baker, one of our leading merchants, is in Baltimore this week on business.

Mr. Kirkpatrick and family, of Pittsburg, Pa., are spending a few weeks at their home in this county.

Miss Cora Bell Birch, of Washington, who has been visiting Miss Florence Garnett at Spry Hill, returned home.

The farmers are busy planting corn, and some have finished. More trucking than usual is being done, and the outlook for the country people is bright. There is no indication that the fruit was killed by the frost and cold during the early part of the month. The trees are full of young fruit.

THE FIRE GETS AWAY.

Railroad Ties Burned and Much Standing Timber Destroyed in Buckingham.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] GRAVEL HILL, VA., May 2.—Mr. Tomson, living near Johnson, Va., was burning brush on his farm a few days ago when a hard wind came up and the fire became uncontrollable, setting fire to everything before it and destroying timber that was standing and ties that were out in the woods. Mr. Huston, Nuckolls and Mrs. Wreath, the greatest losers. Mrs. Wreath's entire orchard was destroyed.

The streak of fire ran between the Gold Hill and Johnson Depot. The children were perfectly panic-stricken, as were also their mothers on the other side. The boys and young men of the neighborhood fought the fire until they were almost overcome with heat. The women all turned out, sending for the children, as school had just turned out in the evening. No lives were lost.

It is appalling to ride along the road and see the destruction to the timber.

Child's Body in River.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] PULASKI, VA., May 2.—While passing over the railroad bridge over Peak Creek Saturday evening at the Norfolk and Western bank below the yard, a group of men and boys discovered the body of an infant floating in the stream. They fished the child out and found that it had been strangled soon after birth by drawing a string tightly around its throat and had been thrown into the creek to cover up the crime.

Lives With Bullet in Head.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] GATE CITY, VA., May 2.—It is learned that Charles D. Wax, who shot himself in the head at Northampton, Va., is improving and will probably recover. The ball has not been extracted. He formerly lived at Gate City, and his parents and sister still live here.

Don't Purge the Bowels—Do as Nature Does

Nature gets her laxatives from food. If you eat plenty of fruit, coarse food and green vegetables, you would get laxative enough.

But you eat fine food, and too much of it. And you exercise too little. So it is vital that you help the bowels in another way.

But don't use salts or pill cathartics. Never employ harsh physic. Nature does all things gently. Give her gentle help.

Cascarets are vegetable. They have just the same effect as a laxative food. They never gripe, so you know they don't irritate.

They act in Nature's way. Yet they are just as effective as violence.
